

Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace the abstract of the disclosure with the following:

---

An information processor for recoding at least two different types of content-related data.

YB
The first recording means records a predetermined number of types of data related to a first content as a first main data group, and records a predetermined number of types of data related to a second content as a second main data group. The second recording means records data of types related to the first content but not in the first main data group as a sub data group, and records data of types related to the second content but not in the second main data group as the sub data group.

---